

My Prayer for You

I pray that...

- ... your eyes see goodness in all people and all things.
- ... you feel love toward every living creature.
- ... gratitude fills your heart and every thought and all your conversations.
- ... your positive attitude is infectious, even contagious.
- ... your smile makes happy all hearts surrounding you.
- ... your joyful spirit fills the emptiness of others.

I pray that...

- ... your words are kind and your actions kinder.
- ... compassion is at the core of all you do.
- ... seeds of forgiveness find fertile ground upon which to flower.
- ... your generosity touches not only those next to you but reaches beyond to those you may never meet.
- ... patience prevails.

I pray that...

- ... you are blessed with absolute clarity of mind, and precious purpose.
- ... the fuel of passion burns ever so brightly in every task you undertake.
- ... courage and caution strike an even more perfect balance in your life.
- ... integrity and excellence are at the forefront of all your works.
- ... humility becomes the foundation of your every accomplishment.
- ... you ask for, and receive the Divine Inspiration that is duly yours.

I pray that...

- ... the breezes of peace and serenity fill your sails for the remainder of your journey.
- ... the light that is You burns as an even brighter beacon to illuminate all that is right, and just.
- ... your heart and hands will always be busy building a better world.

May your body, spirit and soul ~ dance, laugh and sing!
